

Substance Abuse and Mental Health Resource

Central Montana

Substance abuse occurs when use of alcohol and/or drugs causes clinically significant impairment, including health problems, disability, and failure to meet major responsibilities at work, school, or home. Substance abuse is patterned use of drugs in which the user consumes the substance in amounts or with methods which are harmful to themselves or others and is a form of substance related disorder.

Drugs most often associated with this term include alcohol, nicotine, cannabis, methamphetamine, cocaine, hallucinogens, and opioids.

In 2020, 14.5% of people aged 12 and older had a substance use disorder (SUD). Almost three quarters of adults with SUD struggle was with alcohol use (SAMHSA).

In 2020, 16.1% of people aged 12 to 20 used alcohol during the past month. Among people aged 12 or older in 2020, 22.2% were binge alcohol users in the past month (SAMHSA).

People with SUD are at particular risk for developing one or more primary conditions or chronic disease. The coexistence of both a mental illness and SUD, known as co-occurring disorder, is common among people in medication-assisted treatment (MAT). In 2020 6.7% adults had both SUD and any mental illness (SAMHSA).
